"A True Reflection"

Year: 16 Volume: 1 Issue: 1

Newsletter: August, 2025

PRINCIPAL'S INSIGHT

Dear Parents, Students, Teachers, Staff and Well wishers,

It gives me an immense joy to welcome you all to the very first issue of this academic year's school newsletter—a year that marks a significant chapter in our school's journey. Together, we have transitioned to our new home at Jorpati, a campus built to inspire, empower, and nurture every child's potential.

Our new state-of-the-art classrooms are now equipped with digital smart boards, ensuring that technology is not just an addition, but the backbone of our teaching-learning journey. Teachers and students alike are embracing new tools and methods that will prepare our children for a world where digital skills are as important as academic knowledge.

As your principal, I want to emphasize our school's commitment to ABCD—a simple but profound code that will shape our ethos in this new setting:

A—Appearance: We expect both teachers and students to maintain a neat and respectable appearance, reflecting our school's pride.

BC — Buffered Cleanliness: Let us work together to maintain sparkling cleanliness throughout our beautiful new campus. Every classroom, hallway, and common space should reflect our shared responsibility and respect for our school.

D — Discipline: High standards of discipline must be demonstrated at all times, ensuring a safe, productive, and harmonious environment for everyone.

Building a positive school culture is essential for success. When teachers, staff, students, and parents collaborate and support each other, we create an environment where everyone can thrive. This culture fosters respect, innovation, and a love for learning. Parents' active involvement further strengthens this partnership, ensuring that our students receive consistent encouragement both at home and at school. I am pleased to share that the first phase of construction is now complete: our vibrant classrooms are alive with learning, the dining hall and kitchen are ready to serve nutritious meals, and the basketball ground has already echoed with the sounds of eager competitors. Looking ahead, as soon as the monsoon season passes, we will embark on the second phase of development—enhancing our futsal ground, junior play area, walkways, stage, amphitheater, and landscaping to create an even more inviting and inspiring environment for all.

With this solid foundation, I look forward to a year filled with academic excellence and a rich array of activities—a year, I hope, where every student thrives and every dream finds a place to grow.

Let's make this academic year one to remember!

Investiture Ceremony: New Leaders in Action

It was an exhilarating feeling as we marched together in perfect rhythm, our footsteps echoing with pride and purpose. The Investiture Ceremony, held on 11th June, was a defining moment in our school journey—one that marked our official induction as school prefects and handed us the mantle of leadership.

The morning air was thick with anticipation. As we stood in formation, dressed in our freshly ironed uniforms, heartbeats synchronized with the beat of the drums, a wave of emotions washed over us—pride, nervousness, excitement, and a touch of fear. I stood at the front, knowing that all eyes were on us. My palms were slightly sweaty as I gave the command, "Forward, march!" As we reached the stage, we could feel the weight of the moment, intensified by the watchful eyes of our peers, teachers, and most importantly, our parents, who had been invited to witness this landmark event in our school lives. The sense of responsibility became even more real as our names were called out one by one. The presence of our parents on stage made the moment all the more emotional. For a brief moment, I looked into the crowd and caught my mother's proud gaze—it's a look I will never forget. It reminded me that leadership is not just about being seen, but about serving silently and sincerely. One of the most symbolic traditions of our school is the special headwear presented to the captains. In a beautiful blend of tradition and pride, the head girl receives a tiara, representing grace, dignity, and strength. The head boy receives a Nepali cap, symbolizing honor, heritage, and leadership rooted in culture. Following the distribution of badges and sashes, we prepared for one of the most solemn parts of the program—the oath-taking ceremony. We pledged to uphold the values of our school, to act with integrity, to be role models for our juniors, and to carry out our duties with honesty and passion. With the oath completed, we moved on to the flag hoisting ceremony—the final stretch of the formal program. Marching once again in synchrony, we approached the flag. At the signal of the drumbeat, we hoisted the school flag, letting it rise proudly against the sky.

If your actions inspire others to dream more, learn more, do more and become more, you are a leader."

- John Quincy Adams

Becoming a school prefect is not just about the badge we wear or the sash that drapes across our shoulder—it's about the responsibility we carry. As we embark on this journey, we carry with us the hopes of our teachers, the trust of our classmates, and the pride of our families. As we walked off the stage that day, the sun shining down on us and applause ringing in our ears, we knew one thing for sure—this was not the end, but the beginning—The beginning of our leadership story.

Most of the time, teachers believe they are imparting the best possible education to their students, helping them become successful in life. However, in my opinion, we, the teachers, need to bring about a paradigm shift in our approach to education and in how we address the needs of the prime stakeholders—the students—at all levels. As teachers, we should put forth all our efforts to ignite their enthusiasm to learn what truly inspires their minds. The upcoming journal will reflect timely developments in this direction.

Wishing you all great success in addressing some of these pressing issues in education.

The Talk That Matters

Student: Teacher, that student over there always make fun of me. I do not feel good.

Teacher: If you are not comfortable with his words and actions, you might develop a conflict. You know what a conflict is?

Student: I don't know what a conflict means, Teacher.

Teacher: Conflict is a disagreement between two people. It can be uncomfortable, disruptive and often scary. So it needs to be handled well.

Student: Oh, that is conflict. I know what it means now. Can you tell me how to handle it?

Teacher: Of course. There are some ways to handle conflict and get through a conflict with a friend or a family member or a stranger.

Student: Now, I understand much better. I will try to use these tips you taught me.

Teacher: This is all a life skill. Something you should learn from the school as well as your parents. They teach you to be a better person, a good friend and a better student. It is a lifelong lesson which will help you in every aspect of your life, do remember that!

Student: Thank You teacher. I will surely keep it in my mind.

Teacher: You are welcome!

As we celebrate this success, we also encourage all our students to continue striving for excellence in all their endeavors — academic or otherwise. To the SEE and CBSE graduates of this year, we say: Your hard work has been paid off, and the future is bright. Keep aiming higher! Congratulations to all the achievers! You have made us proud!

Holistic development is essential for children in the 21st century as it nurtures not just academic excellence but also emotional intelligence, creativity, and social skills. In this fast-evolving world, education must go beyond textbooks to prepare well-rounded individuals. ECA and CCA play a vital role in this by offering diverse opportunities for self-expression, teamwork, leadership, and resilience.

2nd Chandbagh Literary Fest 2082: A Week to Read, Rise and Remember

The 2nd Chandbagh Literary Fest 2082, a valued event of the school, was a celebration of creativity, imagination, and resilience. Held from 8th to 13th Ashad, the fest beautifully embraced the theme “3R – Read, Reflect, Rise”, reminding us how literature can inspire growth and strengthen our voice. It invited us to go beyond the textbooks, to think deeper, and to grow bolder through the world of words.

As a student, who has always loved stories, this week was nothing short of magical. I felt incredibly proud to witness students from every corner of the school embracing literature and transforming our campus into a literary heaven in ways we hadn't imagined before. From book collages to author walls, from slam poetry to character parades, from debates on books vs. screens to letters written to our future selves about climate change—each activity gave us a voice, a purpose, and a perspective and each day was filled with learning, laughter, and a deeper love for words.

One of the most inspiring aspects this year was the collaboration with Save the Children, who added a meaningful climate-centered focus to the event. Their AirBear comic and Generation Hope campaign didn't just talk about climate change—they helped us feel it, write about it, and rise to face it.

Day 1 opened with a spirited assembly and inspiring words from our Chairman, getting the students into the world of literary wonder. Day 2 revived our love for storytelling, with creative activities like “Spin-a-Yarn” and handwriting contests. On Day 3, students ventured beyond classrooms—through read-alouds, library visits, and literary film screenings. Day 4 celebrated poetry in its rawest form, while reflective letters on climate change deepened our awareness. Day 5 brought books to life through a delightful character parade, lively debates, and book reviews. The grand finale, Day 6, tied it all together with heartfelt elocution, a powerful panel discussion on resilience, and practical language lessons that reminded us literature is both art and life.

What made this fest unforgettable wasn't just the activities—it was the sense of unity, passion, and creativity that filled our classrooms and hallways. I was extremely delighted and proud to see 100% participation. Every student had a voice. Every teacher played a role. Every guest speaker inspired us.

We didn't just read books—we reflected on their meanings and used them to rise into stronger, more aware individuals. It wasn't about who could read the most books—it was about who could think the deepest, speak the bravest, and write the most truthfully.

Literature has always been more than a subject—it became a mirror to the world and a window into ourselves, a compass, and a spark. This fest reminded me that stories are not just for entertainment—they are tools for empathy, growth, and change.

I feel lucky to have been a part of this journey. Chandbagh Literary Fest 2082 will stay with us long after the posters are taken down and the stalls are packed. It changed how we see literature and how we see ourselves. We didn't just celebrate books—we celebrated who we are becoming through them. And that is the true power of reading, reflecting, and rising.

Sarees, Songs, and Slam Dunks: A Teacher's Day Like No Other!

July 10, 2025, was no ordinary day at The Chandbagh School. It was a day filled with celebration, appreciation, laughter, and heartfelt memories — our Teacher's Day.

The entire program was planned and executed by the Students' Council, and it was truly a labor of love. We started making preparations days in advance, but the real buzz began after the second hour on the celebration day. We were all over the place — decorating the stage with balloons and banners, arranging gifts and prizes, setting up mics and sound checks — but the energy was electric and everyone worked together with joy.

The celebration officially kicked off with a warm welcome speech by our school captain, Miss Haya Banu Siwa. Her words beautifully set the tone for the day — one of respect, gratitude, and celebration. What followed was a vibrant series of performances by students, including dances, songs, and even a live band. Each performance was a tribute to our teachers — our guides, mentors, and second parents.

One of the most touching moments was when we handed each teacher a small token of our appreciation — a notebook and a custom pen. Our school Principal, then, gave an inspiring speech that made both teachers and students feel valued and appreciated. The speech was followed by a cheerful cake-cutting ceremony, where all the teachers were invited to the stage to cut a beautifully decorated cake.

Then came the fun part — the games! Organized entirely by the Students' Council, the games were an absolute hit. The first was the paired obstacle run, where teachers had to work in pairs with their feet tied together using ribbons. It was hilarious to watch and even more fun for the participants, with cheers and laughter echoing across the grounds.

But the highlight had to be the saree contest. One teacher had to dress another in a saree, and the crowd went wild with laughter and applause.

After that came the classic musical chairs — a fast-paced, fun game that had everyone on edge.

To wrap things up, we had a thrilling 5v5 basketball match between the teachers and students. Both teams gave it their all. It was competitive yet friendly, and every basket scored brought the crowd to life. Though the teachers took the win, the real victory was the sense of togetherness and spirit of the game. As the program came to a close, I realized that this day was more than just games and performances. It was a celebration of the special bond we share with our teachers — a day to express our love and gratitude to those who work tirelessly to guide us.

Being part of the organizing team made me appreciate even more the effort it takes to create such moments. And seeing our teachers smile, laugh, and enjoy every second was the best reward we could ask for.

Teacher's Day 2025 will always remain one of my most cherished school memories — a perfect blend of celebration, emotion, and joy.

Grandparents Day 2082

"A grandparent is a little bit parent, a little bit teacher and a little bit best friend." With this heartfelt sentiment, The Chandbagh School celebrated this year's Grandparents Day with new enthusiasm, warmth and gratitude, in its new school premises. The programme began with welcoming the grandparents with colourful handmade paper garlands, followed by the traditional lighting of the lamp and the national anthem. The school song performed by children from grades I, II and III marked a melodic start to the day.

The event featured various cultural performances. Grade I, II and III children presented musical and dance performances. These activities not only displayed the childrens' vibrancy but also their love for tradition and family values.

The program also included storytelling session by grandparents, sharing their life experiences and wisdom. The singing bowl meditation session for grandparents was one of the key highlights where grandparents could relieve their stress and improve their spiritual wellness. Yoga, Karate demonstration and poem recitation by Grade II and III children added further diversity to the programme.

The event concluded with words of gratitude from our respected Principal, Mr Chandrayan Pradhan Shrestha, acknowledging the importance of grandparents in a child's life. A photo session captured these priceless moments, followed by a light refreshments, ending the day on joyous and memorable note. The celebration was a heart warming tribute to the love and legacy of the grandparents.

लालच का परिणाम (लघुकथा)

“जाओ जेल के अंदर ।”- पुलिस वाले ने सुरेश से कहा और उसे जेल में ढकेल दिया । जेल के अंदर बैठा था सौरभ जिसने सुरेश से पूछा- “क्या हुआ तुम यहाँ कैसे आ गए ? दिखते तो बड़े भले हो और लगता है अच्छे परिवार से भी हो ।” सुरेश कुछ देर खामोश रहा और फिर बोला- “लालच का परिणाम ।” सौरभ ने पूछा- “ऐसा क्या कर दिया भाई ?” इससे पहले कि सुरेश कुछ कह पाता, दो पुलिस वाले आए और सौरभ को ले गए । सुरेश को अपने किए पर बहुत पछतावा हो रहा था । थोड़ी देर बाद जब सौरभ आया, तब उसने उसे बताना शुरू किया । सुरेश अपना एमबीए पूरा कर एक बैंक में मैनेजर के पोस्ट पर नौकरी कर रहा था । उसका वेतन भी अच्छा-खासा था । लेकिन उसे अमीर बनने की बड़ी जल्दी थी । इसलिए वह सिर्फ ऐसे ग्राहकों को लोन देने की सिफारिश करने लगा जो उसे तगड़ी कमीशन देता भले ही उन ग्राहकों के पास लिए हुए लोन की रकम लौटाने

का आधार हो या न हो । धीरे-धीरे परिस्थिति ऐसी बनी कि उसके द्वारा लोन सिफारिश किए गए ग्राहकों से लोन वसूलना मुश्किल होने लगा और सुरेश की असलीयत खुल गई और आखिरकार पुलिस ने उसे गिरफ्तार कर लिया । यह कहते-कहते सुरेश की आँखों से आँसू बहने लगे । उसे अपने शिक्षक पिता की इज्जत, समाज में अपनी बदनामी आदि की चिंता सताने लगी । इतने में सौरभ ने उसे टोका और कहा- “अब पछतावे के आँसू बहाने से कोई लाभ नहीं है । मेरी कहानी में भी लालच ही जिम्मेदार है । अपनी कहानी मैं किसी और दिन सुनाऊँगा । बस अभी इतना कह सकता हूँ कि जो हुआ, सो हुआ । अब भी हम सजा पूरी कर लेने के बाद ईमानदारी से नई जिंदगी शुरू कर सकते हैं । दोनों ने एक-दूसरे को गले लगाया । इस कहानी से हमें यह सीख मिलती है कि लालच भले ही क्षणिक लाभ दिला दे । लेकिन अंततः लालच का परिणाम बुरा ही होता है ।

मेघ बिजुली विवाह

“मेघ बिजुली विवाह” कवि भरतराज पन्त (१९८६-२०६५) द्वारा रचित एक प्रकृति प्रधान कविता हो । यसमा प्रकृतिको मानवीकरण गर्दै मानिसले आफ्नो कर्मले धर्तीलाई सजाउनु पर्ने सन्देश दिएको छ । परिष्कारवादी धारामा कलम चलाउने कविले ‘मेघ बिजुली विवाह’ कवितामा मेघ (बादल) लाई दुलाहा र बिजुलीलाई दुलहीको कल्पना गरेका छन् । यो दुईका विचमा वैदिक विधि अनुसार विवाह भएको वर्णन गरेका छन् । कविले पृथ्वीलाई तन्ना, हरिया चउरलाई मखमली गलैँचा, हरियो पहाडलाई पण्डित, मयुरको बोलीलाई वेदका मन्त्र, हावाले हल्लिएका वनलाई विवाह मण्डप र पहाडका चुचुरालाई केराका थाम तथा चँदुवाका रुपमा प्रस्तुत गरेका छन् । कविले आकाशमा उड्नेका बकुल्लाका ताँतीलाई रसिक जन्तीको संज्ञा दिएका छन् । यस प्रकार कविले मेघ र बिजुलीको विवाह उत्सव र वर्षा पश्चात् अन्नको उत्पादन हुने सबै प्राणीको पालन पोषण हुने कुरा बताउँदै कर्म र श्रमले धर्ती सजाउन सक्नुपर्ने कुरा व्यक्त गरेका छन् ।

प्लास्टिक प्रदूषण: चुनौती र समाधान

प्लास्टिक आजकल धेरै ठाउँमा प्रयोग हुने सामग्री हो । हामीले दैनिक जीवनमा भोला, बोतल, कुर्सी जस्ता धेरै चीजहरूमा प्लास्टिक देख्न सक्छौ तर प्लास्टिक प्रयोग गर्दा धेरै समस्या आउँछ । प्लास्टिक नबिग्रिने फोहोर हो । यसलाई जलाउँदा धुँवा आउँछ र वातावरण फोहोर हुन्छ । प्लास्टिकलाई माटोमा गाड्दा त्यो माटो राम्रो हुँदैन । नदी, खोला र जमिनमा प्लास्टिक फ्याँक्दा जलचर र जनावर मर्छन् । यो ठूलो चुनौती हो । यसलाई समाधान हामी मिलेर गर्नपर्छ प्लास्टिकको सट्टा कपडाको भोला वा कागजको थैलो प्रयोग गर्नुपर्छ । प्लास्टिकलाई फोहोर खुला ठाउँमा नफर्काई उचित ठाउँमा राख्नुपर्छ । प्लास्टिक जम्मा गरेर रिसाईकल गर्न सकिन्छ । यसरी मात्रै हाम्रो पृथ्वी सफा र सुरक्षित रहनेछ ।

अनुशासनको महत्व

अनुशासन एक त्यस्तो गुण हो जसद्वारा व्यक्तिले व्यक्तित्व दर्शाउन सक्दछ साथै आफ्ना भावनाहरू र व्यक्तिलाई नियन्त्रण गर्न सक्छ । हाम्रो जीवनको हरेक अनुशासन अत्यन्त मूल्यवान छ । यसले व्यक्तिलाई जीवनमा प्रगति गर्न र सफलता प्राप्त गर्न प्रेरित गर्दछ । हामीले स्कूल, घर, कार्यालय संस्था, कारखाना, खेल मैदान रणभूमि वा अन्य स्थानमा अनुशासनको पालना गर्नुपर्छ । अनुशासन बिनाको मानिस पशु सरहको व्यवहार देखाउँदछ । अनियन्त्रित मोटर गाडी जस्तो रहन्छ । अनुशासनले हामीलाई परिपक्व, सोच, कार्य गर्न र जिम्मेवार निर्णयहरू लिन सक्षम बनाउँदछ । यसले हामीलाई आत्मसञ्चालित, आत्म नियन्त्रित निर्देशित व्यक्ति बनाउँदछ । अनुशासनले एक व्यक्तिलाई सफल बनाउनको लागि प्रेरित गरि उसको जीवनमा प्रगति गर्न ठूलो भूमिका खेल्दछ ।

The Future of education in the Digital Age

What happens when the tool begins to think? Perhaps, what happens when the tool begins to teach—so much so that it starts to influence the very source that created it?

We now find ourselves living in a digital world that surpasses the boundaries of our imagination. From bringing entertainment into our living rooms to stepping out of screens and entering our schools, the fascination with the digital age hovers at the edge of reality. Here, every curious question born of human nature is met with thousands of equally curious—yet artificial—answers. This leads us to wonder: is education in the digital age leaning towards true efficiency, or merely artificial learning?

Since the dawn of time, humankind has used education to build its future. Yet today, we are compelled to ponder the future of the very concept that once shaped our progress—education itself in this digitally evolving world.

With the development of our frontal lobes, we've come to understand that evolution never stops—in fact, change is the only constant. Does this mean there is a new, redefined future of education as well? When we hear the word “evolution,” we tend to imagine improvement or progress, because evolution has historically brought advancement. But does change always mean better?

The world has drastically transitioned from a traditional to a digital age. The one undeniable truth is that this transformation is the product of the human mind's evolution—the world did not change on its own. Despite the increasing presence of digital elements in our daily lives, education seemed untouched—until now. Today, students are beginning to rely more on technological tools than on human interaction for learning.

PASHUPATINATH-A CULTURAL HERITAGE SITE

Pashupatinath Temple, also known as the Mandsaur Shiva Temple, is a very sacred religious site situated in Nepal's capital city, Kathmandu. It stands on the bank of the Bagmati River, symbolizing the presence of Lord Shiva everywhere and his protection over every living being on Earth. Pashupatinath Temple is the oldest temple in Nepal. It is said that Lord Shiva, in the form of a deer, was once wandering near the Bagmati River. Since then, the site around the river has become sacred. Inside the Pashupatinath Temple, there are 100 Shivalingas.

It is also believed that those who pray in the Pashupatinath Temple will not be reborn as animals in their next life. However, those who pray only to Nandi (Shiva's mount) before entering the temple are certain to be reborn as animals in their next life. Today, Pashupatinath stands not only as a place of worship but also as a symbol of Nepal's spiritual and cultural heritage.

The Beach

The beach is my favourite place to be .
All my troubles melt away when I am by the sea.
I love to feel the sea breeze blow through my hair
And to walk barefoot along the sand without care.
When I sit and listen to the waves crash into shore
I dream of staying here forever more.
The beach is my favourite place to be.
All my troubles melt away when I am by the sea.
I love to feel the warm sand between my toes
And the smell salty sea breeze on my nose.
The energy that I get when I am by the sea
Fills with me happiness and positivity.
The beach is my favourite place to be
All my troubles melt say when I am by the sea.
I love the beach at any time of the year:
In summer or winter I will still be here.
It is the place to go to set my soul free.
The beach is the place, I want to be.

Discipline

Discipline means having control over how we live our life. It helps us do the right things. Discipline is important in school, at home, and in life.

Discipline is important because it helps us stay focused. If we want to get good marks in school, we need to study and finish our homework on time. Discipline builds good habits. If we practice something every day like reading, sports etc., we will get better at it. Discipline helps us to keep trying even when it feels very hard. We improve because we don't give up.

Discipline makes us stronger inside. When things don't go our way, discipline helps us to stay calm and try again. It helps us to be patient and not give up easily.

In conclusion, discipline helps us to do well and reach our dreams. Without it, it is hard to succeed in anything.

Dreams

The whispers of the silent nights,
Imagination where it takes flights,
They're built on a drawing spree,
Just out of anyone's questionable see,

Every dream is built on an expectation; bright,
Maybe one we'll never see with our sight,
Where society vanishes and our own eyes feel like the stars,
Where morale, an ask of a new try, heals old scars,

Dreams are not only silent thoughts,
They're battles ready to be fought,
Their work of unseen efforts ready to be seen,
In the presence of light their paintings of reality what could have been.

The Road to Victory

"A dream doesn't become reality through magic; it takes sweat, determination and hard work."

The road to victory began with 2 years of preparation in advance. We played so many tournaments and friendly matches to improve ourselves and then we learned the importance of not giving up and how not to lose. We focused on building strong communication, defensive and offensive strategies, quick decision-making and constant movement. After that, we worked hard on our fitness and coordination. We were participating in the 1st Manjushree 3 on 3 tournament which lasted two days. I participated in the tournament with three of my teammates; Tejashwi Karki, Saanvi Bogati and our team captain Amoulika Khadka.

On day 1, I along with my teammates faced three tough league matches. Some matches were so tough we barely lost but managed to stay on track. Our offensive strategies and tight defence pulled us through the knockout. Our bodies were sore by the end of the day but our confidence was high.

Day 2 was all about surviving, and one little mistake could have cost a lot for us. The semi-final was a neck-to-neck battle where we won by 3 points. We then rested a bit before our final match which was with Tri Jyoti School. It was a really tough match, and the scores were tied by the end of the match.

The referee said that the first team to score 2 points would win. Our heart kept racing every second but we remain calm. At last, our team scored two points and we won the championship. The feeling of lifting the winning trophy made every effort and struggle worth it. Our team captain Amoulika Khadka won the MVP award, which was given to the most valuable player. We finally won the championship under the guidance of our coach Saroj Manandhar. Our Principal even took our team along with the coach and ECA Coordinator to lunch in Boudha. It was his treat as a gesture of appreciation and to celebrate our hard-earned victory.

Our road to winning the 3 on 3 tournament was filled with dedication, teamwork and countless hours of practice. We faced strong opponents but never lost our fighting spirit. Every pass, rebound and basket pushed us one step closer to the title. At the end, our hard work and unity led us to the winning trophy. This journey shows us that it's not just about playing the game, it's about giving your best and refusing to give up until the very end.

Beyond the Bell: Afterschool Basketball

As a participant of the after-school basketball training at The Chandbagh School, I can confidently say that this program has been one of the most exciting and rewarding parts of my school life. Held three days a week on Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday the training sessions are not just about learning how to dribble or shoot; they are about discipline, teamwork, and personal growth. Under the expert guidance of our coach, Mr. Saroj Manandhar, we have not only improved our basketball skills but also learned important life values like perseverance, focus, and respect for one another. His teaching style is encouraging yet challenging, pushing us to do better each day while keeping the game fun and meaningful.

The training sessions give us a perfect balance between academics and athletics. After a long school day, stepping onto the court and practicing with our teammates helps us relax, re-energize, and build strong friendship.

I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to The Chandbagh School for organizing this wonderful training opportunity and promoting sports alongside academics. It's an initiative that helps students like me explore our potential beyond the classroom and motivates us to stay active, confident, and healthy.

Being a part of this basketball training has truly been an unforgettable experience, and I look forward to each session with excitement and gratitude.

Karate Grading

The International Karate-do Gokukai Association (IKGA), established in 1965, represents the Yamaguchi style of Gojuryu karate and is now active in over 60 countries. Its roots go back even further, to the 1960s, when dedicated teachers including the sons of Gogen Yamaguchi began spreading this martial art across the globe. Since 1993, IKGA has hosted world championships, and regional events like the Asia Pacific Tournaments. With this rich legacy, we are proud that The Chandbagh School offers karate as a part of its ECA activities, nurturing discipline, strength, and respect among students. One of the most exciting milestones in a karate student's journey is the grading test, a formal assessment that determines advancement in rank. Every karateka begins with a white belt, and progresses through 10 color-belt (Kyu) grades, eventually reaching the prestigious black belt (Dan) levels. Grading is more than just a test, it's a celebration of growth. It allows students to demonstrate their technical skills, stamina, focus, and understanding of kata (forms). These tests are conducted according to national syllabi and international standards, ensuring consistency and fairness. True to karate tradition, students don't ask when they'll be graded. Instead, it is the sensei who observes and decides when a student is ready, based on consistent effort and discipline shown in training. At Chandbagh, karate is not just a sport, it's a path of self-improvement. Through the grading journey, we learn the values of patience, perseverance, and humility, skills that serve us well beyond the dojo.

I, along with Mr Bhushan Chandra Sen Gurung, Academic Director of CG Education, had the privilege of participating in the South Asia Science Education Programme (SASEP) 2025, held in Paro, Bhutan. The SASEP was jointly organized by the Druk Gyalpo's Institute and the Life Lab Foundation, with support from CERN (European Organization for Nuclear Research). The program was held from July 1, 2025 to July 5, 2025. The programme brought together over 75 educators from across South Asia and featured seven dynamic modules led by global experts in pedagogy, particle physics, astrophysics, computational thinking, and STEM education. Through hands-on activities, interdisciplinary learning, and thought-provoking discussions, the sessions emphasized inquiry-based teaching, conceptual understanding, and real-world application of scientific ideas. The experience not only broadened my perspective on science education but also equipped me with innovative strategies to foster curiosity and critical thinking in the classroom. Participating in SASEP was truly inspiring and reaffirmed the importance of global collaboration in reshaping science education for the future.

Curriculum Day: Bridging Home and School

Curriculum Day is an event where educators and the school management team present the yearly curriculum and expectations to the parents. This event addresses the partnership between home and school. More than just a formal orientation, it offers parents the opportunity to meet with the teachers and school management and walk through their child's classroom, experiencing the learning environment. The middle school (Grade V to VIII) is considered a crucial stage for building a strong foundation for future learning. It is the tremendous period, where students are eager to explore 7 Cs (Creativity, Collaboration, Critical thinking, Communication, Cross-culture understanding, Career and life skill and Character).

The main objective of the curriculum day in the school is to share a clear roadmap of our school's whole year, covering academic subject its goals and outcomes, teaching methodologies, assessment plans, ECA, CCA and their plans and activities and Principal key note to our dear parents. But mostly, we emphasize parental involvement in their child's learning and give parents space to raise concern.

Middle School Curriculum Day is more than just an information sharing but it is an invitation to collaborate with parents. Together, we aim to guide our young learners towards becoming more confident, responsible, and engaging in activities.

Why Preschool Matters?

Preschool education is a vital first step in a child's learning journey, offering a foundation for future academic, social, and emotional success. It plays a crucial role in helping children between the ages of 2 to 3 gain basic knowledge, develop essential skills, and shape a positive outlook toward learning and life. At this early age, nearly 90% of brain development occurs. Preschool supports this rapid growth through engaging activities that promote language, problem-solving, and social interaction. It helps children learn to share, cooperate, build confidence, and resolve conflicts which is the key aspects of emotional and social development. Moreover, it fosters school readiness by encouraging early literacy, numeracy, and the ability to follow instructions in a playful, stimulating environment. Preschool also enhances language and communication skills through storytelling, conversations, & vocabulary-building exercises. It reduces educational gaps, ensuring children enter primary school better prepared. Long-term benefits of preschool include better academic performance, improved career outcomes, lower crime rates, and a stronger society. Families play a vital role too. Preschools not only support children but guide parents on child development and behavior, strengthening family bonds. Activities like drawing, painting, rhymes, storytelling, and alphabet games help improve coordination, creativity, and linguistic skills. In conclusion, preschool is not just about ABCs and 123s it's about nurturing well-rounded individuals. It creates a safe, interactive space where children learn, explore, and grow into responsible, confident learners and future citizens.

Congratulation

"I studied at Chadbagh School, where I had close friends and teachers who really cared. The teachers were kind and always encouraged me. They helped me, taught me to believe in myself and dream big, because of them, I became a lawyer. I also followed my hobbies of becoming a pilot and learning mountaineering. These things taught me to always try my best and never give up, no matter how hard it gets. I learned that it's important to keep pushing your limits. But more than anything, I learned not to forget where I came from. That's why I always try to give back to the community that helped me to grow. My school and the people there taught me so much. I carry those lessons with me every day, everywhere at work, in the sky, in the mountains, and in life. And for that, I'll always be grateful. I hold a Juris Doctor degree and a postgraduate diploma in economics from the University of Sydney."
